FOSTER CARE TRAINING

TRAUMA TRAINING 201

Monday, February 12, 2024 | 6:00 PM – 8:00 PM

A trauma-focused parenting approach equips foster, adoptive and kinship (FAK) parents with strategies and tools to help the children in their care counteract the impact of abuse, neglect and traumatic stress. This training provides an understanding of how a child who has experienced complex trauma interacts with their environment and caregivers. FAK parents will learn practical strategies to help children build healthy coping, attachment and resilience skills.
